EPR Responsibility Routes

Tick any routes that apply. Partial and none cannot be combined with full exemption routes.

☐ A. Our company is classed as a Large Producer, with turnover of GBP 2 million or more and responsibility for more than 50 tonnes of packaging per year. We accept responsibility for our own EPR reporting and fees, so EPR should not be charged by Bottle Company South.

☐ B. All of the glass, caps or closures we purchase will be used and disposed of within our business, or within our customer's business, and will not end up in household recycling or public bins. EPR should not be charged on our account.

☐ C. All of the glass, caps or closures we purchase will be exported for use outside the UK. EPR should not be charged on our account.

☐ D. We are a dairy farm or milk producer operating a re-use closed loop delivery service for milk bottles. The glass is disposed of or managed through our own business process and we can provide evidence if required.

☐ Partial. Some (but not all) of our orders qualify for an exemption, for example mixed on-site use, mixed export, or another partial case. Online account exemption is not available. Please telephone us to place those orders so the EPR charge can be adjusted where appropriate.

☐ E. None of the above apply to us. Please quote and charge EPR where applicable. No exemption declaration is needed.
